Vivacta fills key Management Position

Sonja Johnston is appointed as Quality Manager

Vivacta has taken another important step towards the commercialisation of their technology with the appointment of Sonja Johnston as Quality Manager. Joining the Management Team, Sonja will play an important role in structuring the Company's Quality Management System and ensuring operational compliance. To meet the needs of the diagnostics industry Vivacta are establishing a system to be compliant with ISO 13485:2003 as well as FDA QSR 820. Neil Butler stated "In working with major diagnostics Companies we need to take regulatory compliance with the industry standards as seriously as our partners. Quality will be a critical aspect of our business and as we move from design through to manufacture of product for clinical evaluation we are committed to ensure that Quality is paramount."
